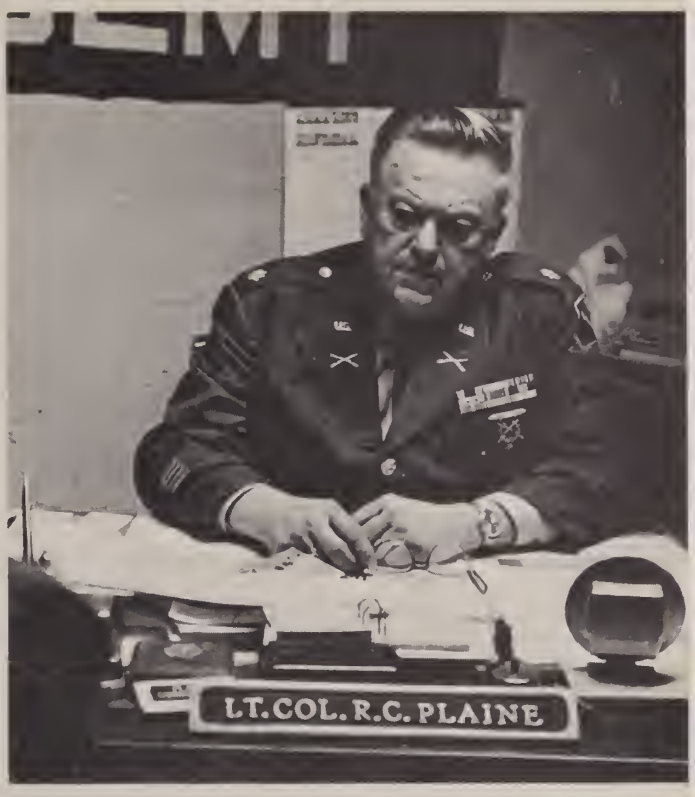
THEME:

Every annual is supposed to have a theme. So they say. Well, after a great deal of thought, work, and time I think I came up with something that would truly fit this past year. It was a quote from a man whom we will never forget. He said that this was. . . . .



"THE

BEST

IN 11 YEARS."

LEFT:

It all started with football. For the first time in 11 years there was true SPIRIT. Here we have the football team leading the seniors and the rest of the school in our theme song .

DIXIE . . . . .

Take off that hat!!!

Everyone will remember the bonfire. It was the one that almost set fire to the school!! Heaven Forbid!!!!!

Since when did they start letting women in Frederick? An added attraction during football season.

Did you ever have one of those days when you just can't hold on to anything?

Football action carried over into gym. Let's hope these boys go out for the team next year.

It was a cold day to have a parade but everyone survived and V.P.I. won.

Shining brass is a ritual before every parade.

A little dab will do you!!

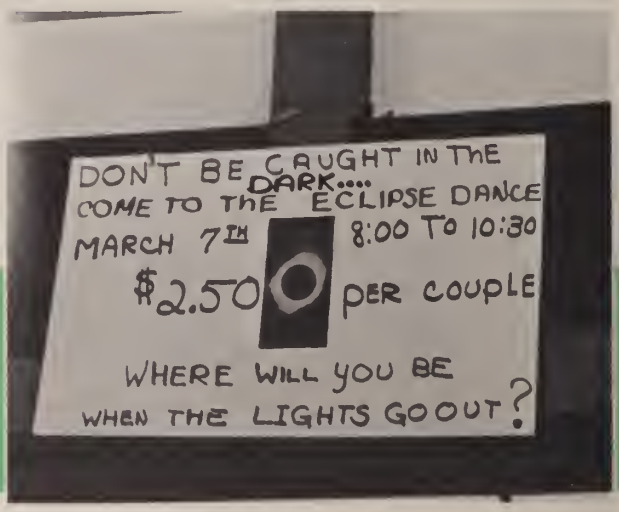
Chowhall: an important part in preparing good food is an ingredient called caring ..... Someone say
BOYCOTT?

The phone booths are the closest things to home and friends.
Know anybody that spent a lot of time there??

DANCES:

Military Ball: the first formal of the year. Bring back some memories?

"That's the funniest dance I've ever seen!"



The National Honor Society gave an "Eclipse Dance". They put in a lot of work decorating the canteen.

The Jr.-Sr. Prom. A splendid success. Maj. Sale was a major help. The seniors were allowed to wear tuxedos. It was a night to remember.

A typical day at Frederick during February.

MORE OF LIFE AT F.M.A.

Another day, another gym class. Think back to your's.

Another well known trip . . . . . Supply Hall . . . "NO HUB — NO RUB" F. O. Will take care of you and your sheets.

You know that it's almost over when Mother's Day rolls around.

Night settles on F.M.A.
And hugs the ground
And kisses the air
And so ends another day.

PRESIDENT
Col. Philip G. Inscoe and Family

Havelock Ellis once wrote: "The family only represents one aspect, however important an aspect, of a human being's functions and activities . . . . . A life is beautiful and ideal, or the reverse, only when we have taken into our consideration the social as well as the family relationship." This is applicable to the Inscoe family because they are not only a family but are also involved in community functions, particularly the activities of Frederick Military Academy. The lives of this family, individually and as a unit, have been an inspiration to their friends, associates and co-workers.

COMMANDANT
Col. and Mrs. R. C. Plaine

The actions of this year's cadet corps is a direct reflection of this man and his attitudes toward the school and especially toward the young men placed under his care. He has done an outstanding job. Thank-you Col. Plaine.

Major Roy J. Ayres

As assistant to the President, Major Ayres supervises the activities of the instructional staff. He helps the department heads maintain the academic excellence that exists in the FMA classroom.

IN MEMORY OF

CAPT. WALLACE COGGINS

Almighty God, we pause amidst our duties to honor this man who dedicated his life to the great task of perfecting Thy kingdom of peace and righteousness on earth. Amen!

We remember with gratitude, all the sacrifices and labors of Capt. Coggins. May we use his life to interpret our own.

Androcles and the Lion

This was the play chosen to be done by the seniors. A very good comedy, and VERY well directed by Maj. Sale and assisted by Capt. Morrison. We cannot give enough credit to the efforts and dedication of Maj. Sale. His talent cradled our efforts into a good play.

But a thought to remember . . . . . "Life is but a stage . . ."

—W. Shakespeare

"I won't go another step."

"Which light did he say???"

"Are you sure about that, Lee?"

LIGHTS, SOUND . . . . .

The Prom . . . . . .

What can we say but BEAUTIFUL. One could tell just how much work was put into this dance just by walking in and looking around. The juniors did an excellent job in keeping every thing Top-Secret.

Major Sale, you have out-done yourself. It was truly your success. We would like to formally thank Major Sale, Major Ayres, and all the juniors.

THANK-YOU for an evening we will never forget.

"OH! WHAT A NIGHT!"

Sr. Class President

"There is an old saying that goes "United we stand, Divided we fall"; This years senior class followed this motto as close as possible. My being Battalion Commander and Senior Class President has put me in a position to see that this slogan is so very true.

"The senior class has stuck together bad times as well as the good times. It is true that we had a few trying moments, but our determination and respect for each other pulled us through.

"My hopes are that the senior classes hereafter will continue to stay together and help each other in times of need. Remember . . . . . Anything worth having IS worth fighting for."

Students at FMA laud Nixon for Cambodian act

PORTSMOUTH—While some school campuses seethe with criticism of President Nixon's move into Cambodia, a group of students at Frederick Military Academy sent him a letter of commendation for his action.

Capt. B. T. Lindsey's senior U.S. government class members dispatched this night letter to the President:

"We, the senior United States government class at Frederick Military Academy, Portsmouth, Va., wish to compliment you on two things. We feel that you did the right thing by going into Cambodia. In order to protect the American boys who will remain in Vietnam—Also for the protection of the people of South Vietnam after our withdrawal.

"We also appreciate very much that you are considering the advice of military men instead of the politicians, many of whom we are disgusted with.

"We are high school seniors and realize we are of draft age, but we are behind you one hundred per cent."

The telegram was signed by the government instructor and 42 cadets.

This years tennis team, though not a winning season, was alot of fun. We hope there will be more enthusiasm for the sports next year. Possibly the greatest satisfaction came when we beat Norfolk Catholic . . . twice. A fitting revenge for our close defeat to them in football.

ACTIVITIES 1970

THE KEY CLUB 1970

This years KEY CLUB has been very active. They started by painting the lines on the tennis courts. They also sold cushions, held a blood-drive. The officers this year were:

Ed Weidler . . . . . President

Steve Atkinson . . . . . Vice President

Chip Evans . . . . . Secretary

Richard Cantwell . . . . . Treasurer

Captain Morrison
Sponsor

The initiation has started.

Is there such a thing as TIME-OUT??????

The final product . . . anyone for BAN??

THE F.M.A. VARSITY CLUB

To qualify to become a member of this club, you must earn a Varsity letter in one of Frederick's sports.

These are:

Football

Basketball

Tennis

Track

Let's have MORE lettermen next year.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

To qualify for this organization, a student must maintain a "B" average throughout his high-school career. Steve Atkinson, our valedictorian, was our president. We had a dance and a pool party-banquet at the end of the year.

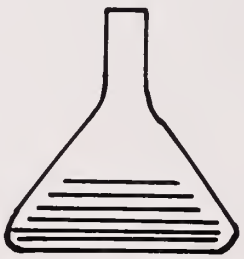
THE CHEMISTRY CLUB



This is the first year that Frederick has had a Chemistry Club. They have been quite active. During the school year they have sent representatives to a science convention and also held a very successful science fair.

Lt. Don Jones

This is another first for Frederick, an aviation club. During the latter months here at Frederick it was not unusual to see a miniature rocket soar into the clouds or see a cadet flying a plane which he made. Let's hope this club stays active also.

Col. R. C. Plaine

F.M.A. OFFICER'S CLUB

Another first: the officers have not only a club but a club house. This is another starting of a tradition here at Frederick. The officers at any military organization are supposed to set the example, and this year they did a fine job.

Gretchen Hazard

Under normal circumstances this page is alloted to pictures of the staff in action but these are NOT normal circumstances. To say that we were under staffed is ridiculous. There was no "CANNON staff". At this point I would like to thank those people, without whose help this annual could not be possible. These people are: Maj. Mooring, Mr. Hash, our professional photographer, Carter Lively, our photographer, "Coach", Young, Staples, Cross, and Barry Barrington, who is one-heck-of-a-guy. Most of all, I would like to thank a person who doesn't even go to this school, a person who supported us in all our sports, and cared. As you all know by now it is our sponsor, Gretchen. She pushed, nagged, and encouraged me until it was done. This has been one Helluva year, hasn't it?

"MAIL-CALL"

Tommy and Ziggy did an excellent job this year. They deserve some sort of reward . . . . . how about a 6¢ stamp???

SUPPLY-HALL

F.O. and his boys also did an excellent job in keeping the corps warm and dry. They are also to be thanked for their linen service . . . . . even though they missed a couple of times. "No hub, No rub."

THE CHOW HALL

This years chow hall workers were a very sophisticated group of young men, as the picture shows. They took great pride in their work . . . . . something we wish would rub off on others in this area. These young men were led by that small boy in the white T-shirt second from the left . . . . . on second glance . . . . . He's not so small, well anyway that's Mike Romano, a real nice guy and one heck of a good football player.

Justice I'anson, Dr. Masden, Col. Inscoe, members of the faculty, guests and fellow students:

What is wrong with America today? Our society is becoming more cohesive every day. Today we are departing Frederick Military Academy with definite mixed emotions and with the hope in mind that we can take our place as useful members in today's society, a society which has undergone many changes in the past decade. Most of us are happy to be leaving this institution and entering into our supposedly carefree and fast paced world of today. But stop and think for just a moment. Is it so carefree? For all we know right at this moment dissident students may be throwing rocks at old and cherished buildings in our higher institutions of learning, some of the same schools that we may be attending next Fall. Our fellow countrymen are fighting and dying in Southeast Asia for a cause that many Americans feel is unjust, to the point that many men of draft age burn their draft cards. Will these tragic misfortunes continue to plague our society in the future? This question can only be answered by our generation, the ones that must attempt to perfect ourselves. Many of us will engage on a journey of seemingly disordered reality next Fall when we enter college. By doing this the young people of today are attempting to perfect their intellect as well as their morals, because ignorance is no more justified than immorality. Many questions concerning morals are subjects of great controversy, such as it is immoral to smoke marijuana, which members of the younger generation are now doing. These questions and others like it will have to be answered by us in the future. It would be quite helpful to keep in mind on this memorable day the words of the great Danish Lutheran philosopher, Kirkegaard, who once said, "Man should seek to be the most perfect man possible rather than just to be that man."

There has been unprecedented progress in all areas of study in the past decade. New vaccines have prolonged man's life so that we can expect to spend close to 80 years on earth. Mankind has attained goals in outer space that he never dreamed possible. Just in this past year man has landed on the moon, a truly phenomenal and almost unbelievable achievement.

Perhaps the greatest social problem today is individual identification. Possessing individuality is a very important requisite towards the satisfaction of important goals and motives throughout life. If our culture is to continue having a commendable rate of achievement, our generation must meet the challenge of gaining social identification and individuality.

I am challenging you, the Senior Class of 1970, to let your thoughts be free, bestow the proper amount of self-respect upon yourselves, face your problems of the future in an objective manner not necessarily following the crowd. Following the crowd can lead to corruption of today's society such as campus violence. A good example of this was the recent situation at Kent State where several hundred protestors led hundreds of students into violence which led to the tragic death of 4 bystanders. Perhaps these iconoclasts are in a minority in our society today but if things don't change, they will be in the majority in the future.

If we are to achieve our goals, we must have faith, faith in one's self is an important attribute if one wants to be successful. This faith has to be developed by the person himself. With this in mind, we should remember the immortal words of Thoreau who once said, "What one thinks of himself will usually determine his fate."

Good luck and may your ships sail steadfast upon the waters of success.

Thank you.

STEPHEN M. ATKINSON

Portsmouth, Va.

VALEDICTORIAN

1969-1970

Although Stephen's academic average for his four years at Frederick Military Academy was high, he was by no means a bookworm. He was President of the National Honor Society, Vice-President of the Key Club, and Battalion Executive Officer. He gave much to the school and worked hard and diligently in everything he undertook. He is a credit to his school and his community.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TO THE 1970 GRADUATING CLASS
FREDERICK MILITARY ACADEMY

It is traditional on commencement day to congratulate the senior class and to address all of the graduates in terms of what the future holds for them. I am breaking that tradition, and instead of congratulating and addressing the class as a whole, I would prefer to direct my thoughts to each of you individually, through this letter.

If I had the opportunity to greet each of you individually, this is what I would say:

Congratulations -- on being who you are, a unique human being capable of making a special contribution to our nation and the world. Congratulations on being fortunate enough to have parents and teachers and administrators who care deeply about you.

I don't have to tell you what the future holds for you. You know that life has responsibilities as well as rewards, failures as well as successes, tragedies as well as joys. You know that our nation offers splendid opportunity -- and faces grave problems.

On your commencement day, then, the important question is what you hold for the future. I am confident that your special and irreplaceable qualities of mind and heart and spirit will contribute to the building of a strong, free and just nation and a peaceful world. As you go forward you take with you my best wishes and highest hopes.
